Silence is Golden

Once upon a time, a student once went to his teacher. He asked his teacher a question, "Sir, is there any good in talking a lot (21) "

The teacher replied, "Toads and frogs croak night and day, but no one pays any attention to them. But the cock crows at a certain time of night and wakes everyone up. (22)

The teacher smiled at his student and said (23) "This proves that nothing good is achieved by talking a lot. What is important is to say the right thing at the right time."

Part 4: Comprehension MCQ (5 marks)

Read the e-mail below carefully and answer questions 24 to 28.

Hi Richard,

I'm on a holiday with my family at the Beach Haven. This is my third day here. I love this place. The weather is great, the food is even better and best of all, the entertainment here is wonderful!

You know, at first when I arrived with my Mum and Dad, I thought that I would be bored to tears in this place. There is no television set here, and worse still, there is no air-conditioner! But my, was I wrong about this place! The beach and water activities here are simply awesome! I am having a whale of a time. I swam, canoed, snorkelled, and today, we will be going wakeboarding! I think our five-day vacation here will not be enough for us. We probably need two weeks! 5 10

The food here is simply delicious. On two nights, we had beach barbecues with some of the other families here. It was really cool! I loved it when all the dads took over the cooking, fussing over the woodfire and making sure that all the food was well done and sizzling hot! All the mums were more than happy to let them take over. After dinner, we had sing-alongs as one of the families brought a guitar along. 15

I think I will try scuba diving tomorrow. There are special trainers to teach you and even swim alongside with you. I have made some new friends and they have asked me to join them. I intend to take some photographs of the sea anemones, corals and tropical fish with my new waterproof camera. I hear the colours of the corals and fish are simply brilliant! 20

We will be back next week and I will show you all the photographs that we have taken. Can't wait to show them to you. See you soon!

Your best friend,
Wilfred

25

For each question from 24 to 28, four options (1, 2, 3, or 4) are given. One of them is the correct answer. Shade the correct oval (1, 2, 3 or 4) on the Optical Answer Sheet.

24. At first, Wilfred did not like Beach Haven because _____
- (1) he was bored
 - (2) he did not enjoy the place
 - (3) there was no opportunity to play any games
 - (4) there was no television set nor an air-conditioner
25. In line 8, we are told that Wilfred had a 'whale of a time'. This means that he had _____
- (1) gone fishing
 - (2) caught a whale
 - (3) wasted a lot of time
 - (4) been having a great time
26. With so much to do, Wilfred thought that he and his family need to spend about _____ days at the Beach Haven.
- (1) ten
 - (2) five
 - (3) seven
 - (4) fourteen
27. What did Wilfred like about the beach barbeques?
- (1) There was a lot of food to eat.
 - (2) The fathers did all the cooking.
 - (3) The mothers helped the fathers.
 - (4) They sang songs during the dinner.
28. Wilfred planned to _____ the next day.
- (1) canoe and snorkel
 - (2) make some new friends
 - (3) try out his new waterproof camera
 - (4) collect some sea anemones and corals

Part 6: Vocabulary Cloze (10 marks)

Read the passage carefully and fill in the blanks with a suitable word.

My Uncle Tom hated his false teeth. As soon as he got home from work, he took them out of his (34) _____. He wrapped them in a handkerchief, put them in his pocket, and said, "Ah, that's better!"

Most evenings he kept his (35) _____ in his pocket. But sometimes he took them out and showed them to us. He hid his teeth behind his back, then he pretended to bite us with them.

One afternoon, Aunt May and Uncle Tom took us to the cinema to (36) _____ a movie. Uncle Tom bought a tub of popcorn and shared it with us while the movie was on. Halfway through the movie, he leaned over to Aunt May and whispered into her (37) _____.

"You've (38) _____ your teeth?!" cried Aunt May in disbelief. "How?"

"I don't (39) _____," said Uncle Tom. "They must have dropped out while I was eating the popcorn."

Soon we were all looking round our feet for Uncle Tom's teeth. They were not there.

"Maybe they rolled down the front," said Uncle Tom, and before we could stop him, he went along the rows of seats in front of us.

"(40) _____ me," he said. "Have you seen my teeth?"

People stared at him and shook their (41) _____.

"I dropped them," he said. "They should be down here somewhere." Some of the people laughed, others helped him to (42) _____ for them. He even crawled on his (43) _____ and knees along the next three rows.

After a few minutes, he waved at us and exclaimed, "Found them!"

Part 9: Comprehension Open-Ended (10 marks)

Read the passage carefully and answer questions 54 to 58

Once there was a boy who loved to draw. His name was Joji. Joji lived on a farm with his family. While his brothers and sisters helped at the farm, Joji did nothing for hours except to draw in the dirt with a stick. And what Joji drew was just one thing – cats. Small cats, big cats, thin cats, fat cats.

Joji's father finally realized that his son was different. He sent Joji to the temple in the next village, hoping that he could become a priest. 5

It was already late in the night when Joji reached the other village. He climbed the steps to the temple and knocked at the door. There was no answer. He opened the heavy door. It was all dark inside.

"That's strange," said Joji. "Why isn't anyone here?" 10

He lit a lamp by the door. He saw a big room full of folding screens with empty rice-paper panels. Joji was thrilled. He got out his writing box and made some ink. Then he dipped in his brush and started to draw all types of cats on the screen. The screen he drew on last was almost as long as the room. Joji covered it with one gigantic cat - the biggest and most beautiful cat he had ever drawn. At last Joji was tired. He started to lie down. But something about the big room bothered him. He found a cozy closet and settled inside. Then he slid shut the panel door and went to sleep. 15

Late that night, Joji awoke in fright... Rrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrrr. It sounded like a large, fierce animal in the temple! Now he knew why no one was there. He heard the thing sniffing around the big room. It halted right in front of the closet. Then all at once ... Yeeoowww! There was a sound of struggling, and a roar and then a huge thud that shook the floor. Then a soft padding sound. Then silence. Joji lay trembling in the dark. He stayed there for hours, afraid to look out of the closet. 20

At last, daylight showed at the edge of the door. Joji carefully slid the door open and peered out. In the middle of the room lay a monster rat - a rat as big as a cow! It lay dead, as if something had smashed it to the floor. Joji looked around the room. No one and nothing else was there - just the screens with the cats. Then Joji looked again at the one gigantic cat. 25

"Didn't I draw the head to the left and the tail to the right?" Yes, he was sure of it. But now the cat faced the other way - as if it had come down off the screen and then gone back up! 30

(Adapted from The Boy Who Drew Cats, a tale of Japan, retold by Aaron Shepard)

ALL ANSWERS MUST BE IN COMPLETE SENTENCES.

54. From the first paragraph, write down the two words that tell us that Joji did not help out at the farm at all.

55. What was strange about the temple when Joji stepped inside?

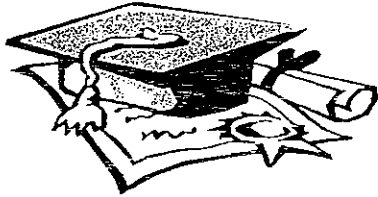

56. Why did Joji choose to sleep in the closet?

57. When Joji awoke, what did he think was in the room?

58. What creature must have killed the monster rat?
